

Come Up With Our Slogan & You Can Win Big!

We are going to have a small ad run on a digital billboard in January, and we want it to stand out! So why not have our patients come up with the design right?! They can be catchy, funny, boastful, or even down right mean... we just want something that makes us proud. From now until Christmas, send us your ideas. If we pick your ad design/idea you will walk away with a 90 minute massage.

Crack-A-Lackin

Definition: To go an extended period of time without a chiropractic adjustment.

You can draw your design on here and bring it back to the office or you can be super extra and design it and send it in to kim@mfwellness.org. All entries will be considered and don't worry... you don't have to be an artist. As long as we get the idea you are going for that will work.
